A MESSAGE FROM THE CO-PRESIDENTS

As we look forward to the New Year, our members who have accepted offices have committed themselves to serve the Family Society with their best efforts. We shall try to plan interesting meetings and can only hope our members will feel an obligation to attend. Too frequently, these meetings are the only way we get to visit with each other. Sadly, our Society has been decimated by the death of key people, but life and this family circle must go on.

We need your earnest support to help us continue our traditions and maintain our unique organization. And unique it is -- do you know of any other?

With all good wishes for a year of Good Health, Happiness, Prosperity and Peace.

Ruth S. Reinberg
Sylvia S. Silverman
Co-Presidents

Hello, I'm your new Host and Hostess Chairperson. In this capacity I am trying to line up sponsors for refreshments at future meetings. All you need to buy are buns, coffee, tea, and milk. The Family Circle provides paper plates, paper cups, napkins and sugar. Usually two families host each meeting. When additional refreshments are served, we have more sponsors.

So, if you have not hosted a meeting within the past several years, won't you do so now? You'll enjoy it. Please phone me at 358-5996 so that I can add your name to our list, and I can also give you complete details. We are in need of host and hostesses.

Sincerely,
Bessie Meleneck

Dear Ms. Reinberg:

In going through my father's mail, I came across your Bulletin and a letter announcing a regular meeting... from which I found this address.

My father, Jacke W. Samet, passed away on May 4th. He had been in declining health for several years and had not fared very well after we lost my mother, Lottie Krauss Samet, almost four years ago.

My father did enjoy reading your Bulletin although we knew almost none of your active members. Thank you for the pleasure he received from your Bulletin.

Yours truly,

(s) Mollie S. Lafferman

Our cousin, Dr. Herbert Abramson died in June 1987 at Naples, Florida, his retirement home for a number of years.

He was the son of the late Rose & Harry Abramson of Washington, D.C. and grandson of the patriarch Abraham Abramson after whom this Society is named.

Dr. Abramson conducted a successful medical practice in our nation's capital, home of most of the Abramson branch of the family. He was their physician and friend.

He is survived by his wife Ruth, two sister, Bessie Levitan and Bertha Blumenthal, and a brother, Norman Abramson.

We extend our deepest sympathy in their irrevocable loss.
IRVIN BARRON

My brother, Irvin Barron, the son of the late Benjamin & Lily Barron died on June 13, 1987. Born in Harrisburg, Pa. on December 25, 1912, his connection with the Family Society was through our mother; his maternal grandparents were Rucha Nessa & Modecai Laib Shapiro. Incidentally, Benjamin Barron was a nephew of Modecai Laib Shapiro.

After finishing school in his hometown, Irvin worked for the Federal Government in Washington, Baltimore, and in Middletown (adjacent to Harrisburg). From Middletown, he went to Rome, New York when that air base was established, and it was from Rome that he was drafted into the United States Army during World War II.

After serving in the Air Corps in England, Irvin was discharged. Shortly thereafter he and Sarah Brown of Chester, Pennsylvania were married and resided for a short while in Washington where Irvin again worked for the Federal Government. Then they moved to Chester, Pa. where Barbara, their daughter, was born.

Over the years in Chester, Irvin was engaged in the upholstery and home decorating business, until retirement several years ago. During his residency in the Chester area, earning a living was not his only activity. Irvin faithfully served his Synagogue and those organizations whose activities he believed in and supported.

Anne Barron Douglas

Dear Friends,

It is at times like this that the urgency to ponder the meaning of life comes to the surface. There are those who are movers and shakers, and those who in their own quiet way, touch the lives of persons with whom they come in contact. Such a person was my brother, Irvin.

As youngsters, I was the kid sister pest, but even in that period of time, his kindness and consideration prevailed. He taught me to ride a bike, to swim, and to canoe. He was athletic, and we were all very proud of him when he became a Sea Scout. As we grew older, our feelings changed from sibling tolerance, to respect for one another, and finally to love. He gave me his canoe when he left Harrisburg. His relationship with our sister, Ann, was different, less hectic perhaps, for they had more in common, but we all knew we loved each other.

When employment opportunities took him away from home, and when the Army sent him overseas, his loving nature helped him make friends easily. Some, dating back 45 years, endure to this day.

He loved his wife and daughter very much, and was extremely proud of their accomplishments.

While our lives were separated by distance, we were in close communication during the years, sharing the joys as well as the tribulations of our families. A few brief words do not adequately reflect the feelings accumulated during a lifetime.

Irvin devoted many hours to charitable pursuits and he gave of himself unstintingly. He was gentle and kind. Indeed, not only was he a gentle man but he was a gentleman. In all candor it can be said that Irvin had "class." He didn't have an enemy in the world, and I can honestly say he was truly blessed.

IN MEMORY OF

SAMUEL J. SEIGEL

It is with a feeling of irreparable loss that I offer my tribute to my brother-in-law, Samuel J. Seigel, personally and on behalf of my wife, Sarah, sister of Sam, who has been removed from our midst.

This feeling is, however, made somewhat more endurable by a comforting faith in our G-d, the Supreme Architect of the Universe, and further strengthened by a sense of respect and admiration of a truly noble life and most admirably lived.

I first met Sam when I was courting Sarah, at the time when he was a child seven years old.

We both liked each other instantly, a friendship which lasted for seventy years, until the day he passed away on August 13, 1987 at the age of 77.

When Sam married Edith Shapiro on August 11, 1935, he asked me to be his best man at the wedding. My two daughters also participated. Bette helped with the bride’s train and Helen was her flower girl. Edith and Sam had one daughter, Deborah, whom they dearly loved.

In the early forties, Sam had a large grocery market. Later he went to work for Issac Kosow, who had one of the largest produce firms in Washington’s Florida Avenue Market. He soon took charge as top supervisor and ran the business until the day he retired.

Sam always had a funny story or a good joke to tell his customers and everyone liked him. He loved sports, especially baseball and football. We attended many games together eating popcorn and peanuts and yelling for the home team. He always said that we were like brothers.

Sam had a keen memory for people and could recall names of families, who they were related to and their relatives. Several times I suggested that he should write a book about our Jewish families. It would have made interesting reading.

In his last years, he liked to take long walks smoking a good cigar. When it became impossible for him to walk any longer, he became very depressed and unhappy. The great tragedy of his life was the untimely death of Deborah, his only child, ten years ago at age 33.

His spirit and memory will always remain in our hearts.

SAMUEL J. SEIGEL

On Thursday, August 13, 1987, I was called by Ruth Reinberg to tell me of the death of her brother-in-law, Sam Seigel. Sam had been ailing for sometime but I could recall the many times when he was well and attended our meetings. It was a joy to see him and talk with him. He was always interested in everyone. He had a terrific sense of humor and I always exchanged jokes with him. He would always have "one better." Sam had a smile on his face all the time and never complained. What a joy it was to see him. I know he will be missed by all who knew him. My condolences go to his surviving sisters, Sarah Rosenthal and Ida Asher on the loss of their dear brother and wonderful friend to all of us.

JONAH LABOVITZ'S BAR MITZVAH

My brother, Jonah, joined the ranks of other mature Jewish men on Shabbos, June 13, 1987 (17 Sivan 5747). On that day, at the Labovitz house in Baltimore, relatives and friends joined together to pray and to listen as Jonah expertly read part of his parsha and his haftora. Among those who led the services were his brothers, Noson Labovitz, Israel Meir Labovitz, Judah Labovitz, Kalman Labovitz and his cousins Shachar Cohen and Adam Cohen. After the services, all were invited to partake in the Shabbos meal, prepared by my mother, Ranessa C. Labovitz. Following the meal, Adam Cohen read the Torah for the Minchah services, and Noson Labovitz led the services.

The following day, after a dinner held at Shaari Zion Synagogue for out-of-town guests and close relatives, Jonah led the Minchah services. Then he spoke to the many family members and friends in attendance about the laws of Tephelin for one who does not have an arm. Then my Uncle Marty Cohen spoke about how Jonah has been prepared these past thirteen years for his Bar Mitzvah. Besides the fact that Jonah has been a student of the Talmudical Academy of Baltimore, he has also been prepared by the examples put before him: my parents, Ranessa and Shmuel Labovitz; my late Zaidy, Benjamin Cohen; my grandmother, Miriam Cohen; my uncle and aunt, Regina & Marty Cohen; and my Aunt Gussie Cohen. Then my brother's mentor and friend, Rabbi Scott Steinman, spoke briefly about the years he has known Jonah. After the speeches, all were invited to partake of dessert and a L'chaim.

Now that this exciting time has come and gone, the Labovitz household slowly is getting back to normal. However, we are confident that Jonah will cherish everyday fulfilling the precepts of Judaism like he cherished those laws on the day of his Bar Mitzvah.

THE BAR MITZVAH OF SHACHAR COHEN

Shachar Cohen was called to the Torah as a Bar Mitzvah on Shabbat Parshat Shofetim, the twenty-ninth of August, 1987, at Congregation Shomrei Emunah in Baltimore.

Shachar's brother Adam, age 15, led the Shacharis service. Our Bar Mitzvah chanted the entire Sedra, the Haftorah, and concluded by leading the entire Musaf service.

Shachar (a Hebrew name meaning sunrise) is the brother of Adam and Katie, son of Martin and Regina Cohen, grandson of Miriam Shapiro Cohen, and the late Benjamin Cohen, all of Baltimore; and grandson of Lilly and Joseph Clyne of London, England, thankfully on hand for this happy occasion.

On Saturday night there was an open house at the family home. Sharing in the simcha were relatives and friends from Uruguay, South America; London, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and "around the corner."

We wish Shachar a hearty Mazel Tov on this milestone in his young life and congratulate him on his beautiful rendition of the liturgy. It was a proud morning for the parents and all the family. May they have continued nachas in their lovely children.

THE BAR MITZVAH OF SCOTT DANIEL SMITH

From Houston, Texas, comes announcement of the Bar Mitzvah of Scott Daniel Smith on Friday, the fourth of September, kabolot Shabbas at eight o'clock in the evening, followed by a reception. Scott was called to the Torah Saturday morning followed by a kiddush luncheon, all held at Congregation Beth Yeshuron in Houston. Dinner and dancing in honor of Scott on Saturday evening at Hotel Inter-Continental in Houston completed the festivities.
Scott is the son of Sheryl and Larry Smith and brother of Gregory Tapper Smith of Houston, and grandson of Dolly and Sol Smith of Austin, Texas.

We extend a hearty mazel tov to Scott, to his parents and grandparents. May he continue to grow in stature and accomplishments and always be a source of pride to all his loved ones.

FAMILY CHATTER

12 May 87
I'de Nitzon
Doar Na Ha Neger, Israel

Dear Ruth,

Just a note to let you know that we received the Bulletin and Frank and I fought over who would read it first. He won! We really love to read all the family news; makes us feel as if we belong! I especially enjoyed the articles about Auntie Ruth (nice note that you added), Celie Bebchick, the letter from South Africa, and the replies from all the libraries which received our famous 85th Anniversary Family Bulletin.

Life is still fun here in Israel and especially on the moshav. We are still growing tomatoes, and this past fall, we picked ten tons of mangoes for export. Frank teaches English full-time at the local junior and senior high school and quite enjoys it. I work for Na'amat Pioneer Women and organize evening classes, lectures, and trips for the women who live on the 13 moshavim in this area. In our spare time, we fight with our four children, ages 19, 17, 14 and 11.

I had a lovely visit with my family in Baltimore in March and was sorry to have missed the family meeting that took place about that time.
We had a special guest this year at our Seder, our cousin Howard Lear who is spending this year in Jerusalem.

That's our news from this end. We welcome any family visitors who may come our way. Warmest personal regards to you and your sister Miriam.

Lihitraot,
Maxene Perlmutter

OUR TRIP TO THE SOVIET UNION

On Wednesday, June 17, 1987 we started our trip to the Soviet Union by driving to JFK Airport. We parked the car at the Long Term Parking Lot, took the bus to Aer Lingus Terminal, checked our suitcases in and waited for the 7:15 P.M. boarding of the plane.

At 7:45 P.M. it took off for Shannon, Ireland. We arrived there about 10 A.M. June 18, about an hour later we took off for a 25 minute flight to Dublin. After about 2 hours stay in Dublin, we boarded a Soviet Airliner and took off for Moscow.

We arrived in Moscow about 6:30 P.M. and while waiting to be checked by Customs, my brother Boris called my name from outside the Customs area. The Customs inspection was not bad as they did not even open the suitcases. We had an emotional meeting with Boris and his wife Sonia. We then met our Intourist Guide Vladimir and I asked him if Boris and Sonia could get on our bus to go to our designated Hotel Rossia, and he said yes.

We got to our room and after refreshing ourselves we came down to dinner. While eating we were entertained by an all female orchestra. The food was fair, but Manya liked it more than I did. Boris and Sonia also ate with us.

After dinner we went to our room and talked about our lives past and present. For the next 3 days our group went sightseeing and to some of them Boris and Sonia were able to go along. Some of the sights we missed, because we wanted to spend more time with Boris. We also went to see The Moscow Circus which was the best circus we have ever seen.

Sunday evening, after spending a lot of time shopping in the hard currency stores called Beryoshka for Boris and Sonia, we were taken to The Red Arrow train for an overnight ride to Leningrad. We liked the train very much, because it had a private cabin with 2 comfortable beds.

Boris and Sonia left for their home town, Vitebsk before us, to take our purchases home. They later joined us in Leningrad.

In the meantime we arrived in Leningrad Monday morning and were taken by bus to our designated Hotel Pulkovskaya. When our guide went in to check us in, I spotted a young man, that I assured Manya was my nephew Ilya, but Manya said no, until we saw my former sister-in-law Genia. We then went out of the bus to greet them and also my other nephew Igor who appeared from nowhere. Our group on the bus were crying at the sight of our meeting.

One man in our group had a cousin in Moscow and Boris looked her up in the phone book and called her. She came to the hotel and her cousin called me to interpret for him, as he does not speak Yiddish, but she and I do. I think I did a good job.

While in Leningrad we also went shopping with Genia and my nephews and at the Beryoshka store we met Ilya's wife Nina, his son Slava and his mother-in-law.

We also had some unpleasant moments, when my nephews and Genia were not allowed into our hotel (Russians are not allowed unless they are on official business). I persuaded the guard in my halting Russian to let them in the lobby.

Boris called on Tuesday morning and wanted to see us, but did not want an encounter between Sonia and Genia. We told him we had bought very little for his sons and he agreed to spend another day with Genia and the children.

Life in Leningrad was very hectic for us, because we had to spend a lot of time with the family, but we also did not want to miss our sightseeing tours. We did manage to do most of both things.

On Wednesday, Boris and Sonia came with a friend who they were staying with in Leningrad. His name is Yuri, he has his own car and took us to the outskirts of Leningrad where during World War II the Germans were stationed for 900 days cutting off Leningrad from the rest of the country. He also took us to the cemetery where about 2 million victims are buried in mostly mass graves. We also went to Yuri's 2 room apartment to get an idea as to how they live.
With our group we also managed to see the famous palace of the tsars as well as their church. One can not properly describe the sights without anyone seeing it themselves.

On Wednesday night we had a Gala Farewell Dinner as well as dancing which was very nice. We only stayed up till midnight, as we had to get up very early to have breakfast and start our trip back home.

The Leningrad Airport is not far from the hotel. Our guide took us to the airport where we met Boris and his friend Yuri. We said our tearful good-by's and went into Customs. That was a very special experience, because Manya and I were singled out from our group for a thorough and complete examination. I had to empty my pockets, Manya her pocketbook, all our suitcases were checked and we were asked a lot of questions such as: Why did you not declare the necklace and the earrings? Why are you going back with empty suitcases? What did you do with all the stuff you took in? Where is all the stuff you bought in Beryoshka? And after finding the name and number of Misha in my notebook he asked me while pointing to Boris "Is this Misha?" He wanted to confiscate the necklace, but after checking with another controller decided to let it go.

We boarded the Soviet plane and flew back home by way of Dublin and Shannon, Ireland.

In New York we went right through Customs without delay, got to our car and drove back home, but due to concern of my falling asleep at the wheel, since we have not slept for about 24 hours, Manya and I kept singing to ourselves and that is how we got home Thursday, June 25 about 9 P.M.

Sol & Manya Smith

NATIONAL AWARD WINNER UNITED STATES ACHIEVEMENT ACADEMY

NEWS RELEASE

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that LORNE DAVID PETERS has been named a United States National Collegiate Award winner in HOTEL MANAGEMENT. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American college students.

LORNE PETERS, who attends UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA, LAS VEGAS, was nominated for this National Award by MR. STEFANELLI, a PROFESSOR at the school. LORNE will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Collegiate Yearbook, published nationally.

"Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly, United States Achievement Academy award winners should be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy. The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of professors, coaches, counselors and other school sponsors; and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a professor or director.

LORNE is the SON of MR. and MRS. STANLEY PETERS, of RANDALLSTOWN, MD. The grandparents are MRS. SYLVIA ROSENBAUM of RANDALLSTOWN, MD and MR. & MRS. E.R. PETERS of HOLLYWOOD, FL. and the great grandson of SADIE AKMAN.

Date: August 20, 1987
To: Argonaut Group, Inc. Employees
From: Bill Schrempf
Subject: Personnel Announcement

I am very pleased to announce the appointment of Ken Solomon as President of a new Argonaut Group, Inc. subsidiary, Argonaut Limited Risks, which is being formed to service the workers' compensation insurance needs of small, profitable commercial accounts. The foundation of this new business will be our account base in the Boise division. Ken's responsibility will be to expand this business through a targeted network of agents who have historically handled a consistently profitable book of small business.

Ken's promotion comes as a result of his outstanding track record as Division Manager of Argonaut's Dallas region. Having joined Argonaut in March, 1985 as the Underwriting Manager in Dallas, he was promoted to Division Manager in October of the same year. During the past 22 months that Ken has acted as Dallas Manager, he and his excellent staff have been extremely focused on our new marketing direction, which has enabled them to achieve these dramatic results:

- increased premiums from $493,000 in October, 1985 to $37,000,000 in August, 1987;
- scaled down the list of Argonaut producers in Dallas from 242 to a highly effective group of 18 agents/brokers;
- increased the average premium size from $25,000 to $1,000,000;
- transformed an unprofitable Dallas division in 1985 to one of the most profitable divisions of Argonaut in 1987; and
- developed a spirit of teamwork and a dedication to customer service that has resulted in a renewal rate of 95%.

Ken's appointment is effective September 1, but he will be continuing to plan an active role in the Dallas office until mid-October, when he will be officially taking on his new responsibilities. At that time, Ken will relocate to the Los Angeles office of Argonaut, Inc. where he will be headquartered.

It is always gratifying to recognize outstanding performance like Ken's and I know that you will join me in congratulating him and supporting him in his new endeavor with Argonaut.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This success story of one of our own, Kenneth Solomon, merits the congratulations of our entire membership. Emulating his father Jack Solomon, Ken's career in the insurance business is moving along at a remarkable clip. He will be 32 in October. We wish him good health and continued success in all his future endeavors. Ken is the grandson of the late Tillie and Abe Solomon.
